

FARNUM'S WIFE
DEFENDS HIM.Says Her Husband Is Best Man in World.Expected to Marry Her During Gould Episode.Would Not Have Married Without Absolute Trust.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, April 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Dustin Farnum, a bride of a few weeks, took a hand today in the Howard Gould-Dustin Farnum case by declaring her faith in her husband and expressing her faith in the conviction that he is innocent of the charge of impropriety with Mrs. Gould.

"He is too fine a man to have been guilty of indiscretions with Mrs. Gould," she said. "Remember, too, that at that time he was courting me. What more proof do you want?"

Mrs. Farnum corroborated her husband's statement that he was bashful.

"He is the shyest man I ever met," she said. She added that she had never met Mrs. Gould, but was anxious to because of her husband's admiration of her character.

Mrs. Farnum was preparing to serve her husband's breakfast in their apartment in the hotel when seen. Questioned regarding her husband's alleged friendship for Mrs. Gould, she said:

"New, look here, I have nothing to say, and that with a big long exclamation point, as tall as I am, after it. Five feet, eight inches exactly, if you want to know. Remember, not a word."

"Do you believe in your husband's innocence of Mr. Gould's charges, as made in his divorce suit?"

Mrs. Farnum, who, prior to her marriage, was Miss Mary Louise Conwell, and other plays in "The Virginian" and her statements in the Farnum case, said:

"Good heavens, do you think I would have married him if I did not have absolute confidence in him as a man of honor," she said, with emphasis.

"No, indeed, I do not believe for an instant that Mr. Farnum was indiscreet with Mrs. Gould. He was paying attention to me, then, expected to marry me, and was loyal to me. He is the best man in the world, and an ideal husband."

ED AWAY FROM DENVER.Man Wanted by Investors Seized
by Detective While Case Is Pending and Rushed Over State Line to California.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

DENVER, April 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Broker W. A. Muir of San Francisco, who is wanted on the Pacific Coast for alleged embezzlement from clients, was this afternoon extradited via the kidnaping route and is now on his way to California, in custody of Detective J. B. Friel.

The spiriting away of Muir was accomplished while the case was still pending. The district court had refused the broker's petition for a writ of habeas corpus. Immediately, Friel seized his man, hurried him to an automobile and started north. A few minutes later, Chief Justice Steele of the Supreme Court telephoned the District Attorney to hold Muir, pending decision on an application for a writ of superadea. But it was impossible to find Muir. He had been taken to Brighton, twenty miles north, and there placed aboard a Union Pacific train for the West.

Three hours later Justice Steele denied the writ. Had he granted it, however, Muir would have been out of the State, across the Wyoming border.

Muir was formerly a member of the San Francisco Stock Exchange. October last, failing to meet certain obligations, he was sold out on the floor. This resulted in a loss to certain investors, who made the accusations. The fight for Muir since he came to Denver has been spectacular.

DANGER IN MILK.

Dr. Evans of Chicago Explains That God Did Not Make Cow to Feed Man.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

CHICAGO, April 22.—In support of his contention that the pasteurization of milk does not give it a cooked taste, Health Commissioner Evans has sent a supply to the City Club, with the information that the "drinks" are on him.

"God did not make cows to supply milk for human beings," says Dr. Evans. "The natural reason for the production of cows' milk is to furnish nourishment for the calf, and before man took a hand in the use of a cow gave only sufficient milk for the use of her young. By means of much feeding and much milking the cow has been forced by man to produce an increased supply of milk that it might be used for human needs. She now gives an unnatural amount and this forcing process has lowered her power to resist disease. The result is that the modern milk cow is peculiarly susceptible to disease, especially tuberculosis."

"The product of any dairy adjacent to a big city, no matter how clean or well managed that dairy may be, is not good enough to use without being pasteurized, unless all of the cows have been tested for tuberculosis. The city health department has examined many samples of milk sold in Chicago as pure milk, and has found in some of them as high as 2,000,000 disease germs in fifteen drops of milk. It water has 100 such germs per drop."

"Let your Malted Milk be Horlicks. Every day knows why. Ideal food."

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

BOSTON, April 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Every saloon will soon have a private drinker's gallery. In it will be photographs of those to whom liquor may no longer be sold.

The Massachusetts House of Representatives this afternoon passed to be engrossed, a measure providing for the gallery. In its wording the bill is simple, but not so simple that it did not create a tremendous fight. It provides that when a person has reached that stage of conviviality where his thirst gets him into disgrace, a notification that he can no longer buy liquor must be accompanied by a picture of some other sufficient means of identification. On a rising vote the measure passed to be engrossed, 45 to 43.

HAINS TRIAL SLOW.

Five Days Spent in Securing Seven Men for Jury Box in Annis Murder.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

FLUSHING (N. Y.), April 22.—After five days' grueling work, resulting in securing only seven men in the jury box, the trial of Capt. Peter C. Hains, Jr., charged with the murder of William E. Annis, was adjourned today until Monday.

The six men who have been examined, and a panel of 150 has been drawn for Monday. The indications are that the trial will be finished without the appointment of a lunacy commission. Neither side, according to declarations made by each, will take the initiative in applying for a commission.

So convinced is John F. McIntyre, chief counsel for the defense, of his client's insanity that he announced today that he would place Capt. Hains on the stand to let the jury judge for themselves his mental condition.

Capt. Hains has maintained a stolid indifference to the proceedings throughout the week, and has spoken to no one in court, not even to his father or brother.

MAYOR GETS 50 CENTS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

HOOPESTON (ILL.) April 22.—Hamilton G. Finley, the newly-elected Mayor of this city, is the first Democrat elected for that position since the city was created, thirty-eight years ago. In his campaign he vigorously opposed a proposition to raise the Mayor's salary, which has remained at 50 cents a year since Hoopeston was incorporated. The Aldermen receive 25 cents a year each.

APRIL POOL HAS FAT PURSE.

LOGANSPOUT (IOWA), April 22.—A purse containing $2000 in bills and negotiable securities was found in the gutter on April 1 by Dr. William de Hart, and constant advertising has failed to locate any claimant. The pocketbook was kicked around the street by many who thought it an April fool joke. Dr. Hart believes the purse fell from an automobile that passed through this city from Chicago.

PLEYELZ CAUSE ARREST.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

CHICAGO, April 22.—"No one should leave the city without taking a box of our celebrated pretzels to the loved ones at home." This remark, accompanied by the distribution of the delicious pretzels, caused the arrest of W. R. Sprinkel, a salesman, and W. J. Peters, a friend, from Youngstown, O. William Chute, a passenger, objected to taking the handful of pretzels thrust into his pocket, and called a policeman.

REVOLT IN BENBOW.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

BENBOW (ILL.) April 22.—In a typical Venezuelan revolution the government of Benbow City has been snatched from A. E. Benbow, its founder and president. The enemy is entrenched inside the City Hall, and violence will follow any attempt of the deposed president to gain control, according to a manifesto issued. This morning Benbow is to the village what Castro is to Venezuela, except that he has control of the city treasury. The trouble is this: The Illinois Legislature recently passed a law by which villages of a certain class shall elect officers in the old year. Mayor Benbow

SPRINGFIELD (ILL.) April 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A bill to reform the type of feminine headgear which has been the style for the last few months, to save the eyes and temper of the public, was introduced today in the House today by George C. Hill-ton of Chicago.

Although the measure is aimed at the milliners, with whom Mr. Hill-ton avows he has no patience, it may fill with alarm the proud possessors of new eastern "creations," for it carries an emergency clause to give it effect immediately upon its passage. Quick action is promised by Representative Anton Cornish of Chicago, to whose Committee on License and Miscellaneous the bill was referred.

The bill was such as to evoke applause as well as laughter from the members when Clerk McCann read out its numerous titles.

"A bill for an act to prohibit the manufacture, sale or use of unsanitary, dangerous or deadly headgear or hats, and to regulate the exhibition thereof."

Stripped of legal verbiage, it would prohibit traffic in or wearing of wider hats than eighteen inches "measured from edge of brim to edge of brim along a straight line drawn through the center of the crown."

Fins, feathers or plumes or other ornaments extending more than six inches beyond the crown, also are prohibited.

A blow is struck at the present style of hairdressing in the stipulation that no hat crown shall exceed in size one cubic foot, and a bid for the support of the Audubon Society is seen in the prohibition against the use of the dead bodies, stuffed skins, limbs or wings of any bird, beast, lizard or other animal, reptile or insect, or any similar article subject to decay and likely to become the breeding place for filth or disease germs."

TUBERCULOSIS FIGHT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

CHICAGO, April 22.—The commissioners of the new municipal tuberculosis institute have organized, with Harlow H. Higginbotham as president and Dr. Theodore B. Sachs as secretary. Health Commissioner H. A. Evans, the third member, drew no office. A change in the present law will be asked so that patients may be self-supporting if they so desire. The law now provides that residents of Chicago must be cared for, free.

DE HAVEN DECISION
MAKES LITTLE CHANGE.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the opinion of the attorneys who have studied the results of the recent decisions of the Interstate Commerce Commission on the traffic from foreign ports to inland points in this country, the decision rendered by United States District Judge De Haven will not materially alter the situation.

In his decision Judge De Haven holds that the Interstate Commerce Commission has no jurisdiction over ocean traffic between this country and foreign ports, but that it does have jurisdiction over that part of the rate, or haul, in a shipment from an inland point to a foreign port, which is within the United States.

On this theory of the law, the court denied the demurrer of the railroads, while it sustained that of the Pacific Mail Company. As far as the latter company is concerned, it is pointed out that the ruling is an empty victory, for while it sustains the steamship company in its right to cut, or rebate, merely on ocean freight, it does not alter the situation as far as through shipments are concerned, and it was this which had caused the protest from Harriman and the declaration by the steamship company that it had been shut out of competition with the Canadian lines on through shipments from the Orient to New York by the ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

"The decision rendered," Seth Mann, attorney for the traffic association, said today, "is entirely in line with the former position taken by the commission. It requires publication by the railroads of their part of rates between the Orient and inland points in this country, but did not require pub-location by the steamship company of its rate, or haul.

"It was this ruling to which Hill and Harriman objected, declaring that it put the steamship lines with connections with railroads in the United States at a disadvantage with steamship lines with connections with Canadian railroads. In order to meet the competition it was asserted that it was necessary to cut the railroad part of the haul in order that the steamship company might make a profit. There being no restriction on the Canadian roads in doing this it was argued that they would get all the business. Practically the result has been, I am told, that the greater part of the freight from New York to the Orient now goes through Russia."

"The present decision of the District Court seems to me to be entirely in accord with the position taken by the commission in its former rulings, and I cannot see that it will alter the situation in the least degree, as it simply sustains the right of the ocean carrier to make a rate irrespective of the Interstate Commerce act."

SENATE HEARS TARIFF BILL.

First Reading Concluded at Adjournment.

Every Paragraph Subject to Amendment.

Many Provisions Passed Over on Objection.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The first reading of the tariff bill for consideration of committee amendments was concluded when the Senate adjourned today. According to an announcement made when the reading began, every paragraph of the bill will be subject to amendment when it is taken up for final consideration next Monday. All amendments, however, that substantial progress has been made. There will be no return to make of the schedule. There was comparatively little debate today, as Senator Aldrich postponed replying to many questions asked of him in order to hasten the reading. He said he would make full explanations when the amendments received final consideration. Many provisions, including the wool pulp and wool schedules, were today passed over on specific objections.

Senators McCumber and Simmons suggested that the lumber schedule be passed over, and Senator Beveridge made the same request in respect to the tobacco schedule.

The schedule relating to spirits, wines and other beverages, on many of which the Senate materially increased the rates proposed in the House bill, would read without objection. The entire wool schedule was passed over on motion of Mr. Nelson.

Notice that the committee would bring into the Senate an amendment making duties on pearls, diamonds and other precious stones specific instead of ad valorem was given by Mr. Aldrich. Hearing to Mr. Bacon, Mr. Aldrich said the rates on these articles were as high as had been found practicable for the collection of any revenue.

The reading of the Philippine sugar schedule was the signal for vigorous criticism by Senators Clay and Bacon of the policy of admitting sugar from the Philippines free of duty. They declared that the free admission of 400,000 tons of sugar from Porto Rico and 400,000 tons from the Hawaiian Islands had not affected the price of refined sugar and added that, while granulated sugar in the United States sells for 14¢ per hundred pounds, it is sold for 12.75¢ per hundred pounds in London. Mr. Bacon insisted that the introduction of free Philippine sugar would, by replacing an equal amount of domestic sugar, reduce the revenues without any benefit to the people.

Mr. Lodge said the entire sugar production of the Philippines is about 1,000 tons annually, which he declared would not go to China. The paragraph was passed over under objection by Senators Foraker and Newland.

Mr. Dilliver called attention to a provision in the bill permitting cattle, horses, sheep and other domestic animals to be brought back to the United States free of duty within six months after being driven across the boundary lines for temporary pasturage. He declared that Treasury officials permitted unidentified animals born in Mexico and those that had been kept there for more than a year to be brought into this country without duty. He insisted that some official should be called to account for such conduct, and upon his motion the entire paragraph was passed over.

STATEHOOD MOVE AHEAD.

President Taft Promises to Do All in His Power to Secure Passage.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Those who endeavored to obtain Statehood for California and New Mexico during the latest session of Congress, and whose efforts failed in the Senate, are relaxing their efforts, preparatory to representing the subject to the regular session of Congress next fall.

Representative Hamilton of Michigan, who probably will be chairman of the Territories, is having the Interior Department gather data which will aid in perfecting the land grant clauses of the Statehood bill, which passed the House at the last session.

Mr. Hamilton desires to overcome objections that were made to these measures and will reintroduce his bill at the opening of Congress in December, with such changes as he believes will meet general approval.

The advocates of Statehood have received the assurances of President Taft that he will do all in his power to aid in the early passage of a Statehood bill.

LIEUTENANT CUTS THROAT.

Officer in Philippine Found Dead in Rear of His Quarters at Olongapo.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)
MANILA, April 22.—Lieut. Albert N. Brunell of the First Brigade of Marines was found dead in the rear of his quarters at Olongapo with his throat cut. It is not known whether the young officer committed suicide or met with foul play.

The naval authorities are investigating both theories. Brunell had just successfully passed an examination for promotion to a captaincy. He was appointed to the Marine Corps from his native State, Idaho, in February, 1930.

SUICIDE IS VERDICT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
WASHINGTON, April 22.—A dispatch received at marine headquarters said Lieut. Brunell had committed suicide. His father has been notified and the body will be brought home.

STATE FAIR FORGOTTEN.

SACRAMENTO, April 22.—It has been discovered that the Wright railroad law which was enacted by the last Legislature does not exempt exhibits from the payment of freight to and from the State Fair, although it has been the custom of the Southern Pacific Company for years to encourage such shows of products by transporting them without cost. It seems impossible that the law, which has been in effect for some time, may be so easily overlooked, and it is likely to have a depressing effect on the State Fair here in August.

Appeal will be made to the State Railroad Commissioners and the Attorney-General in the hope that through them some interpretation of the law may be hit upon that will exempt exhibits in which there is no profit from the freight rates collected for the regular commodities of commerce.

CASTRO TAKES RAP AT UNITED STATES.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PARIS, April 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "I am a friend of the French people; we are of the same race; I am a victim of the United States, which has demanded that action be taken against me by the powers of Europe, whose interests in America I have defended against colossal invasion by the United States. Europe hasn't understood this, just as it hasn't understood the seizure by the United States of the Panama Canal, but the day will come when Europe will regret it. I have defended in America and at the conference at The Hague the rights of the weak against the strong, but the powers abandoned me and betrayed me in this struggle."

With these words, Cipriano Castro, former President of Venezuela, returned to France on the steamer Versailles this morning. When he left France he was the silent, stubborn, austere enemy of the government that virtually expelled him; he returns jealously to the point of eloquence, amiable to all on this side of the ocean and breathing the bitterest hatred for the United States.

Castro arrived in Paris late this evening. He walked out of the station supported by two attendants, and it was evident he made his way with difficulty. He entered an ordinary taxicab and went to a modest hotel in the Place Concord, where he hired a single room.

He still complains of being in ill health, but as a matter of fact he is much more vigorous than when he left France for his native land, only to be turned back at Martinique.

WOUND IS HEALED.

The Versailles, with Castro aboard, arrived at St. Nazaire early this morning. He received the correspondents there in his stateroom.

"I had intended to remain in Martinique to regain my health," he said, "but on April 10 I was served with an order of expulsion, compelling me under threat of imprisonment to leave the island within nine hours. I was sick in bed and unable to move, because the

BLOODY BOUTS ARE FEATURES.

Ring Smeared With Gore in Every Round.

Sullivan Defeats Hefron in the Main Bout.

Austin Beats McGovern by More Cleverness.

Frankie Sullivan beat Martin Hefron in ten rounds.

Jimmy Austin beat Young McGovern six rounds.

Willie Mack beat Al Rogers in six rounds.

Curley O'Connell and Kid Cleveland went six rounds to a draw.

Mike Dalton beat Chester Moss in six rounds.

Frankie Sullivan beat Martin Hefron last night in ten rounds at the Naud Junction fight house, but it was the most bloody victory he ever had in his experience, and in all probability he will never see another fight just like it.

At the end of his perfect and bleeding mouth was gushing blood all over himself as well as Hefron, and while he had much the worse of the last three rounds he had enough lead in the first seven to entitle him to a decision. His was strong and willing at the end, but would probably have been beaten if the scrap had gone five more rounds.

No slaughter-house ever had more blood in it in proportion to the space occupied by the bleeding animals than the prize-fight ring last night, for Sullivan, although he was winning, spat blood from his mouth and snifled it from his nose with almost every breath he drew. His mouth and nose gave forth a constant stream of blood, and through all the showers of blood that he produced, he slammed back at Hefron and pursued him relentlessly in almost every round.

Densets of blows Sullivan rained on Hefron's face, and although the Gold-field boy wobbled a number of times and held on to escape punishment, Sullivan could not land a knockout blow.

In fact, he was almost knocked out himself, for in the eighth round he was sent staggering to the floor from a succession of hard right-hand swings to the jaw, and only his gameness saved him, and had Hefron followed up his big advantage in the ninth round, Sullivan would doubtless have been put out.

There was blood on the floor, blood on the boys' backs, and bright red gore on the referee, some of it coming from Hefron, but the greater part of it from Sullivan, but this less blood seemed to instill more life into the latter, and he hammered Hefron continually for seven rounds.

The last three rounds were Hefron's by a big margin, and yet Sullivan was going strong at the finish.

It was the toughest fight seen here in months, for there was hardly an idle moment, both men hanging away as best they could, Sullivan being the aggressor all the time. He certainly took an awful beating, but he gave Hefron a worse one, and surely earned all that was coming to him.

AUSTIN BEATS DUMMEY.

Jimmy Austin made a sucker out of Young McGovern in their six-round go, landing the greater number of blows and ducking McGovern's wild rushes. Mac was always on the aggressive but landed few blows, Austin being too clever and too quick.

McGovern was willing enough but he lost his head and actually looked foolish in his efforts to land. He was as angry at his failure, that he sent Austin on the arm several times in the clinches.

The bout had been hanging fire for a year, but the boys were bound together on conditions and on each occasion the proposed bout fell through. The boys may ask Manager McCarrey to go the full route of ten rounds.

MORE BLOOD.

Willie Mack and Al Rogers also put up one of the most bloody six rounds ever seen here. Both were bleeding freely from mouth and nose. Rogers was an awful sight at the finish for in the last three rounds Mack hammered him all over the ring, ripping him with uppercuts and tearing his nose with right and left wallop.

Both men were wild and woolly with their swings and before the second round had ended the bout developed into a slugging match in which Rogers had all the worse of it. Sullivan was game and notwithstanding the blood that streamed from his nose, he came back willing enough in every round and ready for the beating that he received.

One round was much like another, for each one was a wild bloody strife, with Mack always the aggressor and chasing Rogers all around the ring. Rogers did his best but was up against a better man. He would frequently turn and slug Mack in the face, but Mack grooved several times but the big fellow was too strong and his arms too long.

FIERCE SCRAP.

"Curley" O'Connell and Kid Cleveland furnished a fine little exhibition in their scheduled six-round bout.

O'Connell had the sympathy of the crowd and Cleveland all the science, and if the latter had a little encouragement he would have won easily. As it was, a draw decision is a fair one.

It was a fierce and bloody scrap from start to finish and, while Cleveland's mouth was bleeding in the latter part of the bout, O'Connell's face was swollen, his left eye discolored and his mouth bleeding. First one and then the other would have the better of it and, while Cleveland was always the aggressor, O'Connell tore in and hammered Cleveland's face until his lips gushed gore through the last three rounds.

The first round opened fast and furious and every succeeding round was like it. Cleveland would lead and O'Connell would slash back with a rush and back up the black boy with rights and lefts. They started off by exchanging lefts to the nose. O'Connell followed with a right to Cleveland's face, and the latter rushed O'Connell to the ropes and landed a right on the head. They then exchanged right and left swings and mixed it briskly for a short time.

The second was Cleveland's and the third and fourth O'Connell's. In the fifth Cleveland was in the lead and the last was fairly even. One can hardly describe the many blows landed and the fast and furious mix, and in these O'Connell had the advantage, but was outboxed at every stage. Both were very bloody at the end and fighting strongly, with Cleveland in apparently the better shape. If a referee had given a decision it would probably have gone to Cleveland.

BIG AUTO RACE ON JULY TENTH.

When the Road Race Committee of the Automobile Dealers' Association meets this morning, Saturday, July 10 is to be chosen as the date for the big road race at Santa Monica.

Ralph Hamlin, William Bush and Ralph J. Leavitt all favor the Saturday date, and it is a practical certainty that the motor car classic will be pulled off on the eve of Elks' week.

This brings the race the Saturday before Elks' week, when thousands of the visitors are in the city. Motley Flint of the Elks is anxious for the Saturday date, in order that the big race will not conflict with other plans for entertaining the visitors.

There will be two races, one for light cars, to be started at daylight, and the other for high-powered machines to be pulled off later in the day. The Santa Monica course will be whipped into shape for motorcycling's great event.

One of the important questions the committee must settle today is that of eligibility for the race. It is almost certain the trio of autoists will decide on a piston displacement qualification. The length of the two races is also a vexed question. The light car race will probably be 200 miles and the larger race the same distance.

Chairman Hamlin favors a shorter distance for the light car race, but the little car owners will present a petition today asking for the 200-mile event.

account of the number of clean punches landed.

The curtain-raiser of six rounds between Mike Dalton and Chester Moss proved to be a haymaker fight, full of wild swings and awkward punches, and at the end Dalton had a shade on Moss, who seemed to be scared after the third round. The first two rounds were all the better of Dalton, but even the fourth and fifth were Dalton's by a wide margin, and the last belonged to Moss.

In the fifth Dalton knocked Moss down with a left on the chin and had him very groggy. Moss was aggressive enough all through, but held on hard in every clinch.

RETURN TO FORM.

YOUNG CORBETT WINS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] NEW YORK, April 22.—Young Corbett defeated Bert Keys on points in a slashing fight before the Fairmont Athletic Club.

In the ten rounds there was not a dull and each lad was trying for a knockout. The fighting experts decided after the contest that Corbett had "come back" into his own, and that he was entitled to a bout with any man in his class, including Bert Nelson.

The terrific rushes by Keys had Corbett tired toward the end, but throughout the battle he was able to land with hard punches.

DWYER TO REFEREE.

CHICAGO, April 22.—Wrestling instructor Mike Dwyer of the Illinois Athletic Club has been selected to referee the bout between the lightweight wrestling championships to be held tomorrow and Monday night. He will also referee the bout for the bantamweight championship of America between Swanson of New York and Young Gotch of Des Moines, to be held tomorrow night in conjunction with the lightweight tournament.

Spectators Clubbed.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Several men were clubbed and twelve persons were arrested in a raid made early today by the police upon the Carlisle Athletic Club of Brooklyn. Three bouts had already been fought when the police rushed in with their night sticks and clubbed many of the spectators.

The managers of the club yesterday obtained an injunction from Justice Carr restraining the police from raiding the club as long as athletic contests were held in accordance with law.

Forty-five Rounds.

CHICAGO, April 22.—Hugo Kelly and Billy Papke, who are matched to fight at Colma, Cal., May 15, will battle forty-five rounds instead of twenty-five, as was originally scheduled. The arrangement was made by telegraph today.

Hayes Beats Nitchie.

PHILADELPHIA, April 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Cover Hayes of Chicago tonight bested Young Nitchie of this city at the National Athletic Club. Hayes was in great shape, and forced Nitchie to put up a game fight all the way, but was outclassed from the start.

One hundred and twenty-three universities and colleges in the West have bids sent to them by the Alumni Committee in charge of the meet. It is believed both Coast universities will be represented by strong squads.

HOGAN THROWN OFF THE PARK.

Scrappy Manager of Vernon Roasts the Umpire.

Bernard Returns to Center and Plays Prettily.

Hard Luck Still Pursuing the Perhaps Bunch.

San Francisco, 4; Vernon, 1.

It has come to such a pass these days that the ball game is being played at the ball grounds, for in the fourth inning of the game yesterday, and before the Seals had picked off even one of their six runs, Hap Hogan, loquacious leader of the Perhaps team, endeavored to make a speech to the umpire in general, and was promptly thrown out of the park by McGreevy. In the next inning the Seals began to bite off runs, and they took six before they were held by two a speech by Hogan, and thus the Perhaps lost the fourth straight game to the visitors.

There was no possible chance for the Perhaps to grab the victory, for in addition to Hogan being tossed over the fence, the Seals had a champion umpire in the person of McGreevy, which is a hoodoo combination in itself that is going strong. Then the Seals tried the bunting plan in the fifth; the Perhaps used the boots in the sixth, and the Seals attempted to murder the Perhaps for a championship combination was too fierce for any team to recover from.

The big scream of the entire game was the work of Brasher, for he not only scored the first run, but he slammed the ball as he did several years ago when he led the league in slugging for two or three seasons. In four times up he cracked out two doubles and a single, and his first double sent in the only run the Perhaps made in the game.

Added to this, the fans saw Curtis Bernard, formerly of the Los Angeles team, make his first appearance in center field, and the way he was applauded when he went to the plate showed that he has a strong hold on the fans on account of his personal slugging.

Willie Williams, who was right there all the time, the only time he wobbled being in the first inning, made a fine play for a double and made a wild pitch, the two averts making the only Perhaps run. After that first inning he settled down, and but two of the Perhaps got as far as second base during the remainder of the game.

Brackenberg was put in to leave for the locals, and did beautiful work for the first four innings, and the score shows that he was in command. In fact, he was so good that he was called out in the third inning, but the hit did not count. Mac banded the ball far up one side of the field, and the scoreboard for an easy double, but in his haste he neglected to touch first base, and the ball was thrown there he was called out.

The Seals won the game in the fifth inning with two very easy runs. Tennant started the inning with a sacrifice single to short, and was safe at second. Brackenberg not being able to catch Tennant, both men advanced a base on Lewis's sacrifice. Tennant scoring a moment later on Nick Williams' sacrifice, and the Seals were in the lead.

Two more runs arrived in the sixth on Mohler's pass, Eagan's high throw to short, and the Seals were in the lead. Williams' sacrifice, Mohler's hit to left, and Martin's boot of this. The Seals runs came from two batters by Nick Williams and Mohler's single.

RIFLES CHALLENGE JAPANESE SAILORS.

ONLY FOR TARGET MATCH.

Glendale and Redondo teams will also take part in the shoot.

The Americans are equipped with the United States service Springfield rifle, and will shoot under United States Army Regulations, allowing the visitors to use what arms they please, and to shoot under the conditions obtaining in the Japanese service, if these are different from those of this country.

The fleet will arrive at San Pedro Monday, when the challenge will be transmitted by the Japanese committee, in whose hands it has been entrusted, and in spite of the short stay of the Japanese vessels in these waters—only three days—the marksmen are hopeful that all the matches will be arranged and pulled off satisfactorily.

The challenge submitted by Secretary Osterlander is:

"LOS ANGELES, April 22, 1939. 'To the Officers and Men of the Japanese Training Fleet.

"Gentlemen: The Southern California Rifle Association respectfully challenges any team from your fleet to a match at 300, 500 and 500-yard targets, on one of the local ranges, final arrangements to be concluded by the Japanese committee between the two teams. The Americans will abide by the United States Army regulations, and the Japanese will abide by the Japanese regulations.

Wednesday, April 26, would be preferred by the challengers, agreeable to the Japanese marksmen.

"Very truly yours,

"A. D. OSTERLANDER, Secy.

RACING SEASON FOR KENTUCKY.

LEXINGTON PARIS MUTUALS TO OPEN TODAY.

Test of the System Will Settle Fate of Gambling Game—Lafayette May Continue Through the Summer, But Legislature May Kill the Game If Continued.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] LEXINGTON (Ky.), April 22.—The racing season for 1939 is to be inaugurated here tomorrow. More than 500 horses are stabled at the track and every stall has been reserved by breeders from all over the country. Horses were shipped from Los Angeles and Oakland last Saturday so as to be here in time for the opening.

The meeting is to continue for seven days. Six races will be run daily with a total of $10,000 hung up in purses. Former major stakes have been cut out, as betting at Lexington and Louisville is conducted by the Paris-mutual system. As the machines are being tried for the second time, the meeting is something of an experiment financially.

This meeting will be followed by one of eighteen days at Churchill Downs, Louisville, after which the Kentucky Jockey Club may cut in for a month. The fate of the game, however, still hangs in the balance, but the Court of Appeals clerk has fixed May 4 as the day on which arguments in the case of the Kentucky Association against the State Racing Commission will be heard at Frankfort.

Because of the unsettled condition of racing throughout the country, horsemen hope the Racing Commission will be sustained by the appellate court, fearing that to inaugurate an all-summer meeting, as is said to be contemplated by Louisville in the event it wins the fight against the Racing Commission, will result in a law being passed at the next session of the Legislature prohibiting betting altogether in Kentucky.

Author Of Fifteenth Amendment Dead.

STEWART.

FRIEND OF MANY FAMOUS STATESMEN IS DEAD.

Except for the first campaign of Bryan in 1896, Mr. Stewart was a Republican. He was, however, a man of independence and always cast his vote in the interest of free silver, whatever the attitude of his party.

STEWART TELLS OF MAKING OF HISTORY.

Not long before his death, Senator Stewart wrote his autobiography—which is one of the most remarkable works of the kind ever written.

Without particular pretense to literary style, it has the candor and almost painful frankness of the wild West. It might have been said of Senator Stewart that he not only called a spade a spade; he called it "a damned old shovel."

Twenty-nine years he was a United States Senator, and in Washington and on the Pacific Coast, from its frontier days on, he was an intimate associate of the greatest men of the past half century.

His expressed opinions of some of them almost take your breath away. He says that Andrew Johnson was a drunken sot; Senator Stewart intimates very strongly that Johnson helped instigate the assassination of Lincoln.

Charles Sumner was a spectacular actor of intolerable egotism. Benjamin Harrison was "gifted beyond comparison with a capacity to be disagreeable. He never either refused or granted a favor during the time he acted as President that he did not give offense."

Mark Twain was, in the Senator's estimation, a lovable and rather disreputable scamp.

BORN IN LOG CABIN.

Cleveland's second administration was "the worst administration that ever occurred in this or any civilized country."

He does not even spare himself. The great episode of his life, of course, was his drafting of the Fifteenth Amendment of the Constitution.

Stewart was born August 3, 1855, in a log house at Gates, Wayne county, N. Y. His people were of Scotch origin and were early settlers in Massachusetts.

When he was a very little boy some one gave him a puppy that turned out to be a famous "coon dog." With this dog he earned his first dollar. He went coon hunting with the other boys and received one-third of the pelts. This netted him, the first summer, $1.50. Of this he spent $1.25 for shoes for himself and a sister. He saved the rest for the next "trainer day" of the militia.

He managed to squirrel through the schooling of those days. He worked as a farm hand and went to the village school and "academy" as best he could, and finally worked himself through Yale, where he developed a great proficiency in mathematics.

In 1880 he left Yale for California, where he made his way to the mines at Nevada City or Deer Ravine, as it was then called.

IN RUSH TO NEVADA.

From then on he lived the wild life of the times—frontier fighting, claim jumping, Panama fever, lynching.

He studied law and became District Attorney, one of his early cases being the murder trial in which Judge Murray made the famous and laughable decision that an Indian is a Chinaman.

Some of his experiences were hardly in keeping with legal ethics and were very funny. He related the worst with the most gusto.

When the Comstock lode was opened in 1880, Stewart went to Nevada in the rush. One of the interesting episodes he relates in this connection is that for years erected on the Comstock that year and the following in the expectation that the Union would be divided and that Nevada would be a Confederate State; and that the Comstock would belong to whoever could hold it.

He went through the whole of the furious Comstock litigation and made $20,000 in fees out of it.

In 1886 Senator Stewart with James W. Nye were elected as the first Senators from the new State, Nevada.

On his arrival in Washington he became the intimate of some of the most remarkable men of the day. One of these, he says, was Senator Zach Chandler.

With Senator Chandler, the new Senator from Nevada entered into one of the most sensational schemes ever started in Congress. They proposed to take 100,000 picked veterans from Lee's disbanded army and 100,000 from the Federal army and invade Canada to push England for her misdeeds. Their plans were fast progressing when the assassination of Lincoln stopped it all.

SCOTCH ANDREW JOHNSON.

He met Farragut, who told him that a fatal mistake had been made when the navy did not take Charleston, thus saving thousands of lives and a larger part of the war. He met Sheridan, who told him that the Union was in peril to observe the Franco-Prussian War. He said that neither Germans nor French fought very well.

In connection with the assassination of Lincoln, Stewart drew a terrible picture of Andrew Johnson.

"When he took the oath of office as Vice-President," says Senator Stewart in his autobiography, "he was very drunk. He was assisted to the chair by the sergeant-at-arms and two doorknockers, and was unable to stand without assistance."

"Immediately after the oath had been administered, he grasped the desk with an unsteady hand and, swaying about so that he threatened to tumble down at any moment, he began an incoherent tirade."

On the evening before the assassination, Senator Stewart called at the White House to introduce his old friend and law partner, Judge Niles Sears, of California. An usher took him in his cards, and returned in about five minutes with a card from Mr. Lincoln, on which was written:

"I am engaged to go to the theater with Mrs. Lincoln. It is the kind of an engagement I never break with your friend tomorrow at 10, and I shall be glad to see you. A. Lincoln."

The next were the last words ever written by Abraham Lincoln. Senator Stewart tried to go to the theater, but couldn't get in, and went to the rooms of Senator Connors at Thirteenth street. He had been there, but a few minutes when a colored man rushed in saying that Mr. Seward had been assassinated.

NEWS OF ASSASSINATION.

They all started on the run for Seward's house, but were not admitted, and started across to the White House. As they arrived, a messenger ran up saying that Lincoln had been shot. Senator Connors at once ordered a soldier to hurry to the house of Secretary Stanton, and prevent his assassination. Had it not been for this act of presence of mind, Stanton would also have been killed.

Ex-Senator Stewart, of Nevada, who died yesterday in Washington, at ripe old age.

Going to the house where Lincoln lay wounded, they were asked not to go in on account of the crowd. But Sumner went in, anyhow.

"Nothing could keep Charles Sumner out," remarks Senator Stewart, sarcastically.

He then tells of helping to swear in Andrew Johnson as President of the United States. He plainly intimates that Johnson knew beforehand that Lincoln was to be assassinated.

Senator Stewart was with Senator Poote of Vermont when the news came of Lincoln's death.

"We must get the Chief Justice at once," said Senator Poote, and "swear in the Vice-President. It will not do in times like these to be without a President."

They proceeded to the old Kirkwood House on Pennsylvania avenue, and went to Johnson's room. He says: "After some little delay Johnson opened the door, and we entered. The Vice-President was in his bare feet, and only partially dressed, as though he had hurriedly drawn on a pair of trousers and a shirt. He was occupying two little rooms about ten feet square, and we entered one of them, a sitting-room, while he finished his toilet in the other."

"In a few minutes Johnson came in, putting on a very rumpled coat, and presenting the appearance of a drunkard on his way to the office. His hair was matted, as though with mud from the gutter, while he blinked at us through squinting eyes, and lurched around unsteadily. He had been on 'bender' for a month. As he came into the room we were all standing. He took a chair and sat down. Chief Justice Chase said very solemnly: 'The President has been assassinated. He died this morning. I have come to administer the oath of office to you.'

JOHNSON SEEMED DAZED. "Johnson seemed dazed at first. Then he jumped up, thrust his right arm as far as he could reach, and said in a thick, gruff, hoarse voice: 'I'm ready.'

"The Chief Justice administered the oath. Johnson—President Johnson—went back to his bedroom, and we retired."

There were only three persons present besides Johnson when he was sworn in—Chief Justice Chase, Senator Poote, and myself. All statements to the contrary are absolutely false. Although he took the oath between 7 and 8 o'clock in the morning, Johnson pretended not to have heard of the assassination. So far as I am aware nobody knows where he spent the night indicated clearly what he had been doing.

FRIENDLY WITH PLOTTERS. "The Kirkwood House was said by the clerks on the morning after the assassination to have been the headquarters of several of the conspirators. The clerks also told me that Johnson was friendly with them, and it seems strange to me that he did not learn of the assassination until informed by the Chief Justice and myself."

In Mrs. Surratt's case Senator Stewart says that Johnson signed her death warrant when he must have known she was innocent.

"The fact that some of the conspirators occasionally visited her in the house gave her an opportunity of knowing something of their movements and their associations, although she was undoubtedly ignorant of the conspiracy."

"From these circumstances it is possible that she might have known something of Johnson's associations which he did not want made public. It could there be a more terrible insinuation?"

MOST IMPORTANT WORK.

The most important episode of Stewart's life was his work on the fifteenth amendment of the Constitution. He had just been elected to the Senate and had already proposed a remarkable act that was generally believed to be the way out of the difficulty; but this had failed of passage.

Gen. Grant's election committed the administration to equal suffrage in the South. So upon arriving in Washington, Stewart went at once to Gen. Grant and pledged him to speak favorably of his proposed amendment whenever it should be mentioned.

"Gen. Grant inquired of me if I thought the negro could protect him-

"You are getting worse every day," I said. "Why can't you be genial, like your brother, Orion? You ought to be hung for what you have published this morning."

"I don't mean anything by that," returned Clemens. "I do not know this fellow Orion. For all I am aware he may be a very despicable and conscientious man. But I must make a living, and so I must write. My employers demand it, and I am helpless."

"He said he wrote it 'because it was humorous.' Maybe it was. I did not undertake to argue with him. I could not see it, and so I let it go at that."

MARK TWAIN MOBBED.

Senator Stewart says Mark Twain lambasted a Nevada "sociable" and was mobbed for it, being thrown out of a stage and his portmanteau brokend.

"He was badly scared but finally colored it up and began to brag about it as one of the most desperate stage robberies in the West."

"And it was a pretty poor story that he couldn't lug that one into, by the nape of the neck, sort of casually."

"After that he drifted away, and I thought he had handed them to me. I thought he was something like that, and I had forgotten him, until he showed up in my room, and then of course I remembered him."

"If you put anything in the paper about me I'll sue you for libel," he waved the suggestion aside with easy familiarity.

"Senator," he said, "I've come to see you on important business. I am just back from the Holy Land."

"That is a queer thing to say of the Holy Land when it isn't here to defend itself," I replied, looking him over. "But maybe you didn't get all the advantages. You ought to go back and take a post-graduate course. Did you walk home?"

"I have a proposition," said Clemens, not at all smiling. "I want a million in it. All I need is a little cash stake. I have been to the Holy Land with a party of innocent and estimable people who are fairly rich. I want to be written up, and I think I could do the job neatly and with dispatch if I were not troubled with other—more—pressing—commitments. I've started the book already, and it is a wonder. I can vouch for it."

APPOINTED SECRETARY.

"Let me see the manuscript," I said. He pulled a dozen sheets or so from his pocket and handed them to me. I read what he had written, and saw that it was bulky, so I continued, "I'll appoint you my clerk at the Senate, and then I'll pay you the salary. There's a little hall bedroom across the way where you can sleep, and you can write your book in here. Help yourself to the whisky and cigars, and waste it."

Clemens lived at the house for some time and once Senator Stewart threatened to thrash him because he guied the kindly—redneck maiden lady."

"You have got to stop this foolishness," I said. "If you don't cease annoying this lady, I'll send my former resolution, and give you that thrashing here and now. Then I'll send you to the hospital, and pay your expenses, and bring you back and can finish your book upholstered in bandages. He saw that I meant business."

"All right," he replied. "I'll give up my amusements, but I'll get even with you."

He did. When he wrote "Roughing It" he said I had cheated him out of some mining stock or something like that, and that he had given me a sound thrashing; and he printed a picture of me with the book, with a patch over one eye.

HEARS HE'S RESPECTABLE.

"Clemens remained with me for some time. He wrote his book in my room, and named it 'The Innocents Abroad.' I was confident that he would come to no good end, but I have heard of him from time to time since then, and I understand that he has settled down and become respectable."

Mr. Stewart left the Senate for a time and formed a law partnership with W. F. Herrin. They were in the celebrated Sharon case wherein Sarah Althea Hill attempted to prove a contract marriage with the old millionaire.

This was the case that indirectly caused the shooting of Judge David S. Terry, one of the most sensational killings in the history of California.

SILVER CRUSADE.

In 1887, he returned to the Senate. "My principal reason for deciding to become a candidate for the Senate was the act of John Sherman smuggling the silver dollar out of the list of coins in the Mint Act of '73, and I felt it my duty to return to the Senate and do what I could to rectify the crime, which was clandestinely committed without my knowledge, or the knowledge of the American people, in the passage of that infamous mint law."

Most of the remainder of his career, until his final retirement in 1897, was given over to a furious battle for free silver.

He speaks bitterly of Grover Cleveland and says that he stopped smoking on the night of Cleveland's election so he would not contribute his share of tobacco revenue to Grover's administration.

FOR ALIENATING WIFE.

On Stubbett Wants $50,000 Damages for Maj. Woodward's Breaking of Family.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES) NEW YORK, April 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.]—The divorce suit of Mrs. Stubbett, the noted tuberculosis specialist, has begun an action in the Supreme Court against Maj. J. O. Woodward, and recovered a judgment for the alienation of Mrs. Stubbett's affections.

About eighteen months ago Mrs. Stubbett packed up and went away, leaving their 2-year-old daughter with her. She has not returned, and Dr. Stubbett is in ignorance of her whereabouts, save, as he said tonight, that he believes she is living in New York somewhere.

The physician, it developed today, has also begun an action against his wife for an absolute divorce, naming Maj. Woodward. In answer to this Mrs. Stubbett has retaliated with a counter suit for a divorce, in which she names a woman or women whose names could not be learned today. Dr. Stubbett has replied with a denial of his wife's charges.

Woodward denies that he has been guilty of misconduct with Mrs. Stubbett, though he admits taking her out frequently to dinners, suppers, theaters, and so on.

Maj. Woodward is a member of the Manhattan, the Transportation, the Army and Navy, and other clubs.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

ATTEMPT TO BREAK ICE.
TWO TONS OF GIANT POWDER IN CHARGE.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
YOUNGSTOWN (O.) April 22.—If the 4000 pounds of dynamite to be exploded in a single charge tomorrow is powerless to launch the giant mass of ice which is anchored to the shore at the mouth of the Niagara river, the glacier will lie there until it melts. After the last ounce of the explosive on hand this afternoon had been devoted to pulverizing one section of the jam, Engineer Knox declared that the situation had resolved itself into conditions for a supreme effort. The ton of dynamite received tonight

BEYOND PURSUIT.
PATTEN IS HERMIT IN LONELY LITTLE CABIN.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
TRINIDAD (Colo.) April 22.—Not satisfied with putting a twenty-five-mile strip of desert between himself and the sound of the ticker and the telegraph instrument, James A. Patten, the bull leader of the wheat pit, deserted the home ranch at Vermijo Park, N. M., today, and placed an additional fifteen miles between himself and the telephone that forms the sole means of communication between the ranch and the outside world. Wearied of dealing with the wily shorts of the market, he turned his attention to the equally wily trout of the New Mexican, and spent the day in whipping the mountain brooks with rod and fly.

Mr. Patten has established headquarters in a lonely cabin, fifteen miles from the home ranch, and will spend several days in the hills. According to H. W. Adams, a business associate, Mr. Patten has made no statement regarding his attitude toward the market, and has reiterated his refusal to do so.

Apparently the broker has succeeded in casting aside the cares of the financial campaign which he has waged for the last few months, for he spent thirteen hours last night in trout fishing in the Colidnaping. The game fishery of G. F. Patten and his daughter of the Colidnaping. The game fishery of G. F. Patten and his daughter of the Colidnaping.

Clad in a khaki suit and armed with a reel and trout rod, the broker left the Bartlett ranch-house shortly after 10 o'clock this morning to spend the day fishing. When the telephone rang he started slightly and walked precipitately out of the room. He seemed as unconcerned about the affairs of the Chicago wheat pit as the Mexican herds on the ranch. The nearest he came to discussing the wheat situation was when he directed that a liberal supply be packed in his lunch basket.

He was accompanied on his fishing trip by H. W. Adams and Clarence Colvin of Denver, the latter a guest at the Bartlett ranch-house shortly after 10 o'clock this morning to spend the day fishing. tion of the world to a little understood and commonly ignored continent.

It was thirty-five years ago this month that Westminster Abbey, that mausoleum of the great, witnessed a wonderful burial, when the body of David Livingstone was laid to rest along with the nation's proud. Like every other visitor to the Abbey who reads at the feet the inscription on that great white marble slab I was thrilled with the story that I saw thereon:

"Brought by Faithful Hands
Over Land and Sea
Here Rests
David Livingstone
Missionary
Traveller
Philanthropist
Born March 19, 1813.
At Blantyre, Lanarkshire.
Died May 1, 1873.
At Chitamba's Village, Uthmaniyah.
For Thirty Years His Life Was Spent
In an Unwearied Effort
To Evangelize the Native Races
To Explore the Undiscovered Regions
To Abolish the Desolating Slave
Trade of Central Africa
Where With His Last Words He Wrote
"All I Can Do is to Go on."
May Heaven's Rarest Blessing Come Down on Every One, American, English, or Turk,
Who Will Help to Heal
This Open Sore of the World."

When said with innumerable of many current books, one can do no better.
In search of information, entertainment and "thrill" than to read Stanley's "In Darkest Africa," or Living-stone's own voluminous "Explorations and Discoveries in Central Africa," or a real hero, a great man, indeed, whose character is best revealed by his own message to the directors of his home society, "I am ready to go anywhere provided it be forward." It is in an altruistic service that a character comes to its greatest possible height.
An editorial in a contemporary paper menting upon the extraordinary eloquence of the speakers at Canada's missionary Congress, pointed out that the members of Parliament, and politicians generally, seldom attain such power of platform utterance. It was his motive and mission that transformed the Scotch mill boy into the Immortal Livingstone, to whom Punch bore this tribute:

"Open the Abbey doors and bear him in
To sleep with king and statesman,
Chief and sage:
The missionary came of weaver kin
But great by work that brooks no lower wage."

"He needs no epitaph to guard a name,
Which men shall prize while worthy
work is known:
He lived and died for good—be this his fame:
Let marble crumble; this is Livingstone."

All the while I am writing of Livingstone, Africa's most famous missionary, there persists before my mental vision the figure of a young man and his charming bride, whom I met a few weeks ago in a southern city. This young man went to Africa in 1901, dis-inherited by his wealthy father because he persisted in becoming a missionary.
Even upon his recent furlough the father, blind to the noble work his son had done and the character he has achieved, so that men now call him great, has refused to be reconciled to him who preferred the calling of a missionary in Africa to that of a lawyer in the United States. Now, after brilliant and powerful addresses here, he out the South, the young man has started back to Africa, accompanied by his beautiful bride. Of all the friends whose loving good wishes follow none find it in their hearts to do other than envy them their opportunity.

It was in April, 1876, that Alexander Mackay sailed to Africa, to become the mechanic-missionary, helping to construct a new Christian nation by the tools which he wielded so skillfully.
For a diversified, more than a few of more compelling and absorbing character than the creations of fiction, commended young Mackay to the attention of Uganda. Within the memory of multitudes now living Uganda was a horrible example of barbaric cruelty, treachery and savagery; and the narrow escapes of some missionaries and the slaughter of others, like Bishop Hartington, make a terrible story. Today, Uganda is a Christian kingdom, with a religious activity and spirit putting to shame many communities that have possessed the tropics for centuries.

DRIVE GOLDEN SPIKE AT LAST.

INTER-CALIFORNIA ROAD READY FOR OPERATION.

Opening of Mexican Branch Into Masatlan Made Notable by Presence of High Government Officials.
Rates to Seattle Exposition Announced.

The Inter-California Railroad, the Harriman line that passes into Mexico at Calexico-Mexicali and runs thence to Yuma, Ariz., has been completed and will be turned over to the operating department May 1. The driving of a golden spike marked the fastening down of the last rail. Whether train service will follow immediately after the date named, officials refuse to say.

A through Pullman service has been established between Los Angeles and Calexico, via the Imperial Valley, and between Masatlan and this city, twenty-four hours being out from the former time to Masatlan. Passengers can leave Los Angeles at 8:30 p. m. daily, arriving at Calexico at 1:15 a. m. the following morning. Masatlan is reached at 8 a. m. on the fourth day.

The opening of the Mexican branch
into Masatlan was made a gala occasion, representatives of the Mexican government and leading citizens joined with officials of the railroad in making the event memorable. President Epes Randolph was present.

Exposition Rates.
The steamship lines have made a rate of $12.50 for the trip from Los Angeles to Seattle and return, effective
June 1, on account of the Alaska-Tu-son-Pacific Exposition. The Southern Pacific, routing over its own track both ways, has made a rate of $14.50 from Los Angeles for the round trip. Going over the Salt Lake, via Salt Lake City, and returning over the Southern Pacific,
the rate is $12.50 from any California point. The Salt Lake makes the same rate with that routing, and $30
going and returning over its own line.
The Santa Fe rate is the same as the Southern Pacific's.

The return limit is three months.

Rushing Tunnel Work.
In order to have everything in working order for the Elks' week in July, the Los Angeles-Pacific is pushing the excavation of the Hill-street tunnel between Temple and First streets, and expects to be operating trains through it later than June 15.

No attempt has been made to remove the core. Work is confined to cutting around it to facilitate its removal later.
Daylight will be seen through the tunnel about May 15. The hardest part of the job is building the retaining walls. Dirt is not being moved as rapidly as from the other tunnel, as the grade makes it necessary to use the motor to handle all cars.

The men are working in wet dirt
at present, which is also retarding progress somewhat.

Right of Way Dispute.
Disputes over right of way across the Castello mining claims at Gleason,
which plunged the Southern Pacific and Mexico and Colorado (the Phelps-Dodge line) into all but armed conflict
some weeks ago, but which were supposed to have been amicably settled,
have arisen again, and the air in the neighborhood of Gleason is filled with
talk of fight and injunction.

The trouble arises over Castello's refusal to deed right of way to the Southern Pacific, which started condemnation proceedings, and built its grade. Castello gave a deed to the Colorado and Mexico for a right of way,
portions of which crossed the grade of the Southern Pacific, through his property, and gave of the Colorado
and Mexico workers are threatening.
It is asserted, to grade through the work of the Southern Pacific. It is said that injunctions have been applied for
by the latter, and that if the attempt
is made to cross the grade, a fight will be precipitated.

Many in touch with the situation look
for long litigation.

Innovations on Espes.

the company in some notable way,

Disputes over right of way across the Castello mining claims at Gleason,
which plunged the Southern Pacific and
Mexico and Colorado (the Phelps-Dodge line) into all but armed conflict
some weeks ago, but which were supposed to have been amicably settled,
have arisen again, and the air in the neighborhood of Gleason is filled with
talk of fight and injunction.

The trouble arises over Castello's refusal to deed right of way to the Southern Pacific, which started condemnation proceedings, and built its
grade. Castello gave a deed to the Colorado and Mexico for a right of way,
portions of which crossed the grade of
the Southern Pacific, through his
property, and gave of the Colorado
and Mexico workers are threatening.
It is asserted, to grade through the work of the Southern Pacific. It is said
that injunctions have been applied for
by the latter, and that if the attempt
is made to cross the grade, a fight will
be precipitated.

Many in touch with the situation look
for long litigation.

Funeral of Wife of the Sheriff is Attended by More Than a Thous-

More than a thousand persons attended the funeral of Mrs. W. A. Hammel, wife of the Sheriff, at the Orr & Edwards undertaking parlors, yesterday afternoon.

The chapel was literally smothered with blossoms sent by those who had known Mrs. Hammel, and by the host of friends of Sheriff Hammel, who joined with him in his bereavement.

There were more than 200 floral pieces. Of these offerings a piece sent by the Sheriff's deputies was probably the most beautiful. It was entitled
"The Gates Ajar," and was a massive affair, ten feet high, with great, billowing gates of white buds. All the city and county commissions and officers expressed their sympathy by beautiful floral remembrances.

Rev. Dr. Hugh E. Walker of Immanuel Presbyterian Church read the service, following with a brief address on the lovely character of Mrs. Hammel and the many good deeds she had performed.

Representatives from many lodges and orders were present, with a large delegation from the Order of the Eastern Star, of which Mrs. Hammel was a member. There was an escort of uniformed police.

The active pallbearers were: Chief of Police Dishman, Martin Aguirre, Captain of Police Bradish, Edward Strauberg, J. W. Webster, Champ
Vance, H. M. Hurd and William Humphreys.

The interment was at Inglewood Cemetery.

with a large assortment of fine gar-

quantity of tobacco comprised the loot.
Entry was made by jimmying the back door of the establishment.

"MR. OPP"

By ALICE HEGAN RICE, Author of
"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch"

Plamboyant, pretentious, and amazingly ignorant, "Mr. Opp" makes you laugh at his ludicrous speech, his tilting at windmills, and his multitudinous activities.
Having tried many things, Opp sets up as proprietor and editor of The Opp Eagle of Cove City, Kentucky. Here he is in his glory, and throws his whole exuberant self into action—and the manner in which he runs that serious and uproariously funny county newspaper (and incidentally the village) would make Opp an extraordinary and enduring character even if the author told us nothing more about him. ¶ Then, there is Opp the lover and his romantic affair with
"Guin-never"; and his tender, whole-souled devotion to Kippy, his helpless sister—a heart interest as genuine as it is pathetic. ¶ You laugh at Opp, then you begin to respect him, and you end by admiring and loving the valiant little man who asks no odds of life and lives with a zest and an abandon that are baffling.

It will aim at bringing the priceless gems of know-

The Opp Eagle will, moreover, stand for tem-

FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN

BY MISS SYDNEY FORD.

When is a shirtwaist? Now, I do not mean this as a catch question like the "Why is a mouse when he spins?" which nearly drove us distracted a few years ago with its equally tantalizing answer. The more the higher. No, I am in sober earnest when I ask "When is a shirtwaist?" and when a blouse—and when a chemise?"

It is a nice little question and there's a difference as well as a distinction. There is more of a mix-up than usual this season too, on account of the less clearly defined line of demarcation. In a general sense, when we speak of a shirtwaist we mean the strictly tailored affair with its many plits and stiff starched collar and cuffs. The term blouse is a French word and means the frilly waists of mull, silk and lace. In Paris, if you wish to buy a plain shirtwaist in a shop, says the Baltimore American, you must ask for a chemise. The term "shirtwaist" is not in their vocabulary. If you ask for a blouse, you will be shown the department for elaborate waists of silk and lace. While the French excel in this style of waist, not a shop in Paris can compete with the American tailored shirtwaist. Recognizing this, an enterprising American modiste, Mrs. Close of New York, has gone over to Paris and set up a shop for the exclusive creation of shirtwaists, such as American women like, and she will also undertake to compete with her French sisters in the matter of lingerie gowns.

Mahomet Goes to the Mountain.

Mrs. Close realizes that she is doing a rather risky thing, like bearding the lion in his den, as it were, but she relies largely on her immense American clientele established all along the line from New York to Chicago—and farther west than that. She says: "I have been designing shirtwaists and blouses and all kinds of lingerie gowns of an exclusive pattern for years for rich American women, but the inconvenience of getting workpeople who could do the hand embroidery in America became more difficult each season. And besides, I was so far from my point of supplies, laces, tulle, etc., that I was obliged to make more trips to Paris every year than I liked. So I decided to try this experiment. Of course, I am all right for the present, as I have one foot, so to speak, on home soil. I brought over with me as many orders as I can fill for this season, at least, and I have my models now all ready and will mail for America to deliver my orders by the middle of April. But the thing that worries me will be to know if I can hold my customers from so great a distance without making the many trips across the ocean which I dread so much."

Mrs. Close's Hope for Summer.

Fully one-third, if not more, of the French models just received and exhibited have half or three-quarter-length sleeves and a writer in the current number of Style, Decollet, formerly of Vienna, and now of Paris, and one known as a very "American" designer, because of the practical and refined models which he brings out each season in great variety, has made nearly all of his sleeves, in everything but coats and evening dresses, in the length reaching a point half way between the elbow and wrist, and finished there with a binding an inch and a half or two inches in width of the dress material—if it is not cloth.

Some exquisite afternoon gowns depicted in Vogue also show sleeves of the length above mentioned.

Cane and Wood Carving.

A new cane for men is being manufactured, having a diminutive auricle at the handle. This would seem a clever device for a deaf man. He could carefully rest his head on his cane and listen to a sermon, a song or a lecture. An article in a recent number of Vogue gives an interesting account of the wood carving at Oberammergau, where the peasants who produce the Passion Play each decennial carve wonderful figures from bits of the native wood. A dozen unique handles for umbrellas and parasols were carved for the writer of the article and are illustrated as samples of the clever handwork of this interesting people. From the rough birch and other twigs, the subjects which surround their everyday life—sheep, brought out—faces of typical villagers, animals and insects.

Housekeeper's Magic Wand.

Why do housewives by hand when there is electricity? A writer in Appleton's tells about a Chicago family whose bread winner earns $18 a week. He is employed by one of the great electrical companies of that city. His wife is her own cook, maid and laundress, and this is how she does it. On Monday the family wash which has been soaking in soapy water all night, is put into a tub. She turns a switch, then cuddling baby in her lap, she opens the morning paper and rocks and reads while the electric motor is swishing the soiled clothes back and forth in the washing machine. The first step of the laundering process finished, she rises the automatically cleaned clothes in clear water, turns another switch, and feeds them through the rubber rollers of the wringer, which is operated by the same motor that runs the washing machine. After the clothes are dried she irons them with electrical flat iron, sitting easily on a high stool and lifting neither foot nor back.

The kitchen of this home has in it a gas stove but it has also an electrical cabinet on which a goodly part of the meals are cooked. This cabinet is home-made, of dark stained wood, and on its broad shelf are several electrical "stoves," plates of iron in which are resistance coils that warm up to a cooking heat when the current is turned on. The electrical oven stands on the floor when not in use, for it takes but an instant to screw the plug at the business end of its wire into the socket, and be ready to roast the Sunday leg of mutton.

With all these electrical appliances in the kitchen, add the vacuum cleaner for sweeping the other rooms in the house and cleaning the curtains, hanging and rugs, an automatic water heater in the cellar, which gives one hot water on the turn of a faucet—why need the housekeeper, I say? Rather, let her learn to deftly turn electric switches on and off and be the executive official, as it were, of her household.

News of the Shops.

It would like a pool of Y.W.C.A.

one of our shops the other day. The young woman behind the counter handed her a spool of the D.M.C. cotton, and it was just what she needed.

The latest educational fad in toys is the alphabet doll. All over her sawdust body are printed the letters of the alphabet in the small single syllable words illustrated by tiny pictures of the objects named.

Have you seen the Dickens china? A table in a certain china store is filled with royal Doulton ware—bowls, pitchers, platters and mugs decorated with Dickens's characters—Sam Weller, Pickwick, Squeers and all the rest of them.

Old rose neckties for men are blossoming out in all the best shops devoted to men's wear.

There are some stunning Panama hats for women in the window of one of the smartest men's clothing stores on Spring street.

Now is the time to pick up remnants of India linen, nainsook and Persian lawn for use in lingerie underwear.

Two pairs of knicker trousers with a suit for your son appeal to the heart of the mother, who knows how soon the trousers come to patching with the wear and tear of the small active boy.

Some lovely cotton foulards in charming patterns and colors are displayed in the windows of one of the leading stores at only 15 cents per yard.

Fads and Features.

Fashionable morning hats are small, but for receptions and real occasions they are large.

Double motor veils, joined only at the edges, are made up in green, brown or blue over white.

Blouses for every day wear are being made in fine soft material, woven with silk stripes.

For dressy frocks chiffon cloth is very nice. It washes and wears much better than chiffon.

The sleeves of new blouses are generally gathered leg-o'-mutton, made to fit close to the arm.

Coarse cotton nets that showed signs of popularity last season are largely in evidence again.

In spite of the great flower, ribbon, and lace, a low-cut frock, will make the neck look thinner.

Colored foulards, with a black dot in place of the most fashionable white dot, have found favor in Paris.

The long bodice, often pointed in front and fastened with four buttons, like a vest, is fashionable.

Pretty plaids of modest size, bordered with plain color, are among the new goods designed for children.

On many of the new blouses just arrived checks play a prominent part. The checks are both large and small.

The most popular of the taupes and smoke grays and those which are most becoming to a slight reddish shade.

Instead of opera bags the Paris fashions are carrying with them to the theater huge muffs of chiffon or mousseline.

Skirts are fuller round, but the fullness is arranged to begin at the knees, except where the stuffs are very flimsy.

Brims and no brims, brown and white, and mushroom are among the hat shapes.

MOTHERS' FUND EMBLEM TO BE WIDELY WORN.

Arrangements Completed for Mothers' Day Excursions—Change in Arrangements for Three Jubilee Days—Governors of Two States Issue Holiday Proclamations.

The Executive Committee for Mothers' Day and the chairman of all the subcommittees held a continuous five-hour session yesterday, devoting the entire time to working out details for the celebration of the new mothers' fund button have come in so rapidly that they found it necessary to add an order for 20,000 more buttons to the 50,000 previously ordered and extensively distributed.

The Mothers' Day excursions will be held on Thursday, May 6, the sight-seeing cars and automobiles making two trips, starting from Temple Block at 12:30 and 3:30 p.m. Hostesses for the day will be provided by the committee in charge, consisting of Mrs. Workman, Mrs. Noble and Mrs. Wadell, and will be there to welcome the guests.

For the same day, through the generosity of Gen. M. H. Sherman, three, and if necessary, four cars have been donated by the Los Angeles-Pacific Railway to take a party to Playa del Rey, where the guests will be given the privilege of the patron, and everything else in sight, including a luncheon. Other seaside arrangements are yet to be made.

A little confusion arose over the signing of the booths in the stores, for benefit of the fund. The committee overlooked the fact that some of the religious organizations could not participate in the work on Saturday, consequently Thursday, May 6, was assigned to the churches, under the new arrangement adopted yesterday. In order not to interfere with the grand fraternal hall in Shrine Auditorium, the Ferris benefit in Temple Auditorium was also changed to Thursday afternoon. This arrangement gives the fraternal societies full sweep on Friday, their having charge of the booth during the day and the ball in the evening. Saturday, May 6, becomes Club Day.

Mrs. Baker P. Lee, general chairman, said yesterday: "This movement is non-sectarian in every way, and we want everybody to have an equal opportunity to show their loyalty to the cause, and when I learned that the first arrangement made by the committee did not suit a portion of the people in our city, I at once requested that it be changed, and this was done yesterday."

"It is most surprising how the movement is spreading, and I have received notice that the governors of South Dakota and West Virginia have issued proclamations setting aside May 6 as a holiday, and recommending the mothers' fund. To show the necessity for a mothers' fund in other States, I have received letters from mothers in South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama, not only endorsing the movement, but asking aid for themselves."

REMARKABLE CHANGES AT EAST SAN PEDRO

INNER HARBOR DEVELOPMENT HAS OBLITERATED OLD LAND MARKS

SOME OF THE CHANGES THAT PROGRESS HAS BROUGHT TO THIS INTERESTING OLD PLACE.

The remarkable changes at old East San Pedro are a cause of bewilderment to those who visit this interesting spot after a period of some years.

Time was when East San Pedro was a haunt for artists and writers. They used to forego their down on the old jetty—that long narrow line of rock against which the water lapped on either side—down among the fishermen and squatters, whose shacks made this one of the most picturesque spots on our coast.

But progress has caught up with East San Pedro—has seized upon it and made it over. Land covers those places where water once was. One sees docks today where beautiful landscapes formerly were seen. Progress is the great transformer—and progress promises to be what it should be—a great money maker, at East San Pedro.

The property of the Pacific Wharf and Storage Company is an example to the point of what is happening on the harbor front. This company has created 15 acres of land where water used to be at East San Pedro. Some 65 acres more are in the progress of making—the project will cover 80 acres in all, when completed. A rock breakwater holds this land in place, and high and dry a modern pumping plant is taking care of the land dredged from San Pedro's inner harbor, distributing it to place where it shall go in the space owned by this company.

The work was begun in 1906, and to date $225,000 has been expended in its prosecution. The project, planned by competent engineers and now being carried out under the supervision of the U. S. Engineers will, when completed, afford 8000 feet of dockage on the inner harbor—dockage for vessels of the largest size in safe waters of sufficient depth.

This property is ideally located for the purpose. It is adjacent to the Salt Lake Railroad's holdings and is immediately opposite the Southern Pacific's property, within 1000 feet of the Southern Pacific's great slip, the largest in the entire system of that company. It will afford industrial enterprises, building slips, where railroads and deep water vessels meet.

The securities of the Pacific Wharf and Storage Company give the public used to celebrate in their churches and organize Child-Study Circles.

The song entitled, "The White Carnation," is a patriotic song, and will be in the hands of the Mothers' Congress, of which Mrs. Chalmers Smith is president. The latter part of next week. Schools and other part of the U. S. Engineers will, when completed, afford 8000 feet of dockage on the inner harbor—dockage for vessels of the largest size in safe waters of sufficient depth.

The long bodice, often pointed in front and fastened with four buttons, like a vest, is fashionable. Pretty plaids of modest size, bordered with plain color, are among the new goods designed for children. On many of the new blouses just arrived checks play a prominent part. The checks are both large and small. The most popular of the taupes and smoke grays and those which are most becoming to a slight reddish shade.

Instead of opera bags the Paris fashions are carrying with them to the theater huge muffs of chiffon or mousseline. Skirts are fuller round, but the fullness is arranged to begin at the knees, except where the stuffs are very flimsy. Brims and no brims, brown and white, and mushroom are among the hat shapes.

an opportunity to share in the remarkable increase in commerce and valuations at San Pedro, on the same basis as the great corporations which are investing millions of dollars there. The company is now offering 6 per cent, twenty-year gold bonds, secured by all property it holds at present or shall hereafter acquire. These bonds, secured as they are by a deep water frontage, insure the buyer a safe investment. Offered at 90, with accrued interest, they are sold on a 7 per cent basis—in other words, the bond owner has a safe investment, earning 7 per cent, over a period of 20 years.

With every bond sold a stock bonus of 5 shares, par value of $50, is given. This stock, which already has a market value, has great earning possibilities. It makes the bond buyer an actual owner in deep water dockage. The total authorized bond issue is $500,000. Bonds to the amount of $175,000 have already been sold—and are held by some of the strongest financial interests in Southern California. The present offering is $200,000 in bonds.

The immense growth in tonnage at San Pedro harbor is almost beyond belief. It is only by getting official figures for the different years and comparing them, that you will really credit the increase shown. Every little while we read in the newspapers of some new line of steamships that is about to make San Pedro a port of call. Every addition of a character adds to the commerce of the port and increases the value of harbor frontage.

Comparison of San Pedro tonnage for the first three months of 1908 with the first three months of the present year, shows an actual increase this year of 115 per cent. A statement for the entire year will doubtless show a still larger increase, for this tonnage is growing at a tremendous rate.

It is impossible in a newspaper article to give detailed facts and figures. The Pacific Wharf and Storage Company has prepared an interesting map showing San Pedro harbor developments. This tells the story as nothing else can. A copy of this map, circulars and engineers' reports may be secured by applying at the company's office, 624-626 Merchants' Trust Building, 207 South Broadway, this city—or they may be secured at the office of Louis Blankenhorn, secretary of the company, 804 Security Building.

tional Indian Association, delivered at a first Congregational Church night fore last, a meeting was held yesterday morning for the purpose of for-the American Indian Association.

Preparatory to the opening of the Burdette.

Resolutions were passed expressing sympathy for the family of George H. B. Eakin, the late president of the Pasadena Hunt Club, who was killed by a car on the highway. The club is planning a fund-raising party to help defray the expenses of the funeral.

The Valley Hunt Clubhouse was the scene of a charming festivity yesterday afternoon, when the junior society of the club gave a party. The clubhouse was decorated with flowers and the tables were set with a most delicious repast.

The club was arranged for the instructed by Prof. Kramer, and num-

SUSPECT YOUTHFUL THIEVES.

Watts Hardware Store Broken Into.
Police Think, by Gang of Small Boys.

WATTS, April 22.—The hardware store of W. H. Turner was broken into and robbed some time late last night, or early this morning. Knives, razors, jewelry and cash, to the value of nearly $500 were taken.

Judging from the manner of entrance and the goods stolen, the police believe that the robbery was the work of a gang of young boys who live in this city.

The front window was broken and entrance gained through the space. As yet the police have no clue, but have notified the police of surrounding cities.
As it is thought that the thieves will try to dispose of the loot in Los Angeles, quick developments are expected.

FAST.
FLYER SERVICE
THROUGH PALMS.

LOS ANGELES PACIFIC READY TO INSTALL IT.

Time Between Los Angeles and the Sea Will Be Cut Down to Thirty-
two Minutes Over the Electricized Tracks of the Espas—Grand Stand Location.

SANTA MONICA, April 22.—General
Manager Sherman of the Los Angeles-Pacific trolley line says he is ready to inaugurate a "flyer" service over the old Southern Pacific tracks, via Palms, from this city to Los Angeles as soon as the people agree upon a schedule that will bring the greatest good to the greatest number.

The idea is to run a direct line between Montana avenue and the passenger depot in Los Angeles will be covered in thirty-two minutes, making this the most direct and quickest route between the city and the sea. For the present there will be but two trains per day, one for the city and the other for the beach. Just as rapidly as the travel develops new cars will be added to meet any requirements.

PORTABLE GRAND STAND.
The Automobile Road Race Committee is coming to the beach tomorrow for the purpose of locating the grand stand. It has practically been decided to place the bleachers on the beach, where there will be an uninterrupted view of the race.

The grand stand will be a portable
one, and will be erected on the beach stand on the portable plan is receiving favorable consideration. The stand will be three years in succession, and the probability is that for the next one it may be deemed desirable to make the stand at another part of the course.

ELKS PLAN RACE.
The local Elks are working up an automobile race, to be run on the San Vicente-Nevada avenue boulevard course on Santa Monica Day, July 10.
Joseph Meyers, a retired business man of Los Angeles, has purchased a lot on Sixth street, near California avenue, and will at once build a residence.
The baseball team of the Crane Company of Los Angeles has accepted an invitation to come to the beach diamond for a Sunday afternoon game with the local aggregation.

Claud Rogers will arrive tomorrow morning from Grant's Pass, Or., accompanied by the body of A. F. John-

SEASON STARTS TODAY.
Big Salt Plunge at Venice to Open
Chamber of Commerce Opposes Union of Cities.

VENICE, April 22.—The big salt plunge on the ocean front will open for the season tomorrow. The school children of the local district are to be given free baths on the initial day, and in the evening there will be a program of aquatic events.

H. B. Eakin and J. M. White were among the number who spoke tonight at the Cabrillo before the Venice Chamber of Commerce on the question of the proposed salt plunge. The school. The sentiment of this organization, as well as the members of the Good Government League, who were invited guests, is that there should be no delay in founding the school as proposed, for the convenience of the patrons of the Ocean Park and Playa del Rey districts, the new section, when properly signed, will be submitted again to the County School Superintendent, in the hope that an election will be held in the district and the voting of a block of $20,000
bonds for the necessary building will be ordered. The other topic of discussion this evening was the proposed consolidation of the cities of Ocean Park and Santa Monica. The speakers were not in favor of the move, which they said means an annihilation rather than the annexation of Ocean Park.

SAN PEDRO BUSINESS MEN MAY ASK BOND ISSUE.

Chamber of Commerce Calls Upon Trustees for Survey of Outer Harbor and an Estimate of Probable Cost of Improvements—Expense of Project May Prove Serious.

SAN PEDRO, April 22.—At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Chamber of Commerce last night, a resolution was adopted requesting the Trustees to direct the City Engineer to make a survey of the outer harbor,
and an estimate of the probable cost of constructing municipal docks.

The object of this survey is to determine the cost of such improvements, with a view of petitioning the Trustees to call a special election to bond the city for the purpose of constructing wharves. No action was taken regarding the amount of the probable bonds but this question was discussed. The assessed valuation of the city of San Pedro is about $7,000,000, and the debt at the present time is that might be voted for this or other public improvements is limited to approximately a million dollars.

The resolution does not ask that any particular plan for improvement be adopted, or that any recommendation for a means of reaching the public be made. The whole question of the city for municipal docks is not a new one. It has been proposed at various times, but the cost of reaching the docks in the outer harbor has been a serious drawback.

Those opposed to such a bond issue, advance the argument that Los Angeles with an assessed valuation of $225,000,000, could easily assume the cost of such improvements in case of consolidation, without its being a burden, whereas San Pedro, with a population of 10,000, would be forced to property of San Pedro alone would be a heavy tax. If San Pedro alone should issue the bonds this city would have to assume the cost of the bonds.
Should consolidation be effected and the consolidated city be bonded, San Pedro would have to pay her part of the debt at the ratio of one dollar to thirty-five.

spoke her, but his services were declined by Capt. Hamilton, Collector of Customs, C. W. Pendleton. The vessel from Los Angeles today to investigate.
No one on board the Sampson had a license to enter this port, and the pilot went out at the request of the local agent for the Alaska-Pacific

CONSOLIDATION BANQUET.
Over Walnuts and Water Ocean Park
and Santa Monica People Will Discuss Merger.

OCEAN PARK, April 22.—The date for the consolidation banquet has been fixed. Next Wednesday evening is the time and the Pier-avenue casino the place. The number of invitations will be limited to fifty, and will include the city officials of the two cities proposed to be merged—Santa Monica and Ocean Park. This will be one of the last general meetings of the workers for consolidation prior to the circulation of the petitions asking that the election be called.

Chairman Miles and his Santa Monica Committee on Consolidation laborers held their first meeting this evening and as a result of it all feel encouraged to believe that the movement will have no organized opposi-

A few people seem to think Sawtelle should be included in the merger, and to this the consolidation forces raise no objection. They say it is up to them, and they are willing to victorize that municipality into the fold.

Others say they are against the plan

AUTO ACCIDENT FATAL.

Pomona Widow Dies from the Injuries
Received When Car Struck
Planked Culvert.

POMONA, April 22.—Mrs. Mary N.
Milliken, of Piedmont street, died this morning, as a result of injuries received in an automobile accident last evening. Mrs. Milliken, who was a sister of Mrs. John Nafel, was returning from a visit downtown. She was with Mrs. Nafel and her brother-in-law, W. J. Nafel, in a new automobile driven by the latter.

When they reached the home of Dr.
Reed on San Antonio avenue, the physician was crossing the road with a wheelbarrow, and Mrs. Nafel turned the car to the side of the road to avoid a collision. In the dark he could not see a planked culvert. This car struck full force, throwing the occupants out into the road and breaking an axle. Mrs. Nafel was killed instantaneously on the front seat with Mrs. Nafel, struck heavily on her head and sustained a fractured skull. She was carried into the house of Dr. Reed and medical attention given.

From Crowley, La., several years ago.
She was a prominent worker in the Presbyterian church, and had made many friends during her residence here.

Star Lodge are making preparations

OLD OR YOUNG, ALL TO COME.

Evangelist Smith Offers a Drawing Card.

St. Vincent's to Honor Its Patron Saint.

Rishop of Portugal Will Be Celebrant.

Dr. Charles Edward Locke said yesterday that the revival meetings which have been in progress in the First Methodist Church every night this week, under the leadership of Evangelist Hugh E. Smith, have been most interesting and attended with good success. They will be continued every night next week, commencing on Sunday night, and with a "family meeting" on Monday night. This latter is a specialty with Mr. Smith, and he says the results from it in the East have been most remarkable. The grandfathers, grandmothers, mothers with children in arms, and people of all ages, are invited to attend, and it generally results in a packed house, where whole families appear together. J. W. Patterson is conducting the singing.

In the absence of Dr. Burdette, the morning sermon at the service of the Temple Baptist Church, in the afternoon, will be preached by Dr. John Willis Baer, who announces the topic, "The Second Mile Christian." In the evening, Rev. Edwin Ransom Brown will preach on the subject, "Does God Send Men to Hell?"

The quarterly meeting of the Friends opened in the First Friends' Church, Third street and Fremont avenue, yesterday, and will continue through today. The meeting is attended by a large number of Friends from the city and surrounding towns.

Mrs. Garrett Newkirk of Altadena will deliver a lecture on "The Bible as Literature," at the meeting in the Young Women's Christian Association hall on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. She will be assisted by Miss Margaret J. Stewart and Miss Louise Crawford of Pasadena. Mrs. Norman Williams will be soloist. All women are invited.

At the Sunday evening service in the First Congregational Church, the Easter music will be repeated by a double quartette and the Choral Club. Dr. William H. Day will deliver the commencement address at Pacific Theological Seminary, Berkeley, on Tuesday evening. This is the Congregational Ministerial Training School, affiliated with the State University. Mrs. Day will accompany him, and they will return on Saturday.

William Murphy will speak at the gospel temperance meeting in Blanchard Hall on Sunday evening, J. W. Eccleston will sing a solo, and the Angelus Quartette will give several numbers.

Dr. E. S. Chapman, superintendent of the Anti-Slavery League, will speak at the men's meeting in the Y.M.C.A. Sunday afternoon at 3:30. His subject will be, "A Lost Cause: Is It Yours?" Dr. J. Q. A. Henry will speak in the First Baptist Church on Sunday evening on the topic, "Shall the Sinner or the Sabbath be Saved?" Beginning May 1 Dr. Henry will begin a series of revival meetings in the First Baptist Church, Riverside, the fine new church which will be dedicated on the preceding day.

The Good Samaritan Club, in connection with the Union Rescue Mission, will meet tonight at the City Mission, No. 54 East Fifth street, under the leadership of "Uncle Ben" Pearson. A banquet will be served at 6 o'clock, after the meeting, at which J. H. Leavitt will speak. Rev. William H. Walker will speak on Sunday evening.

FEAST OF ST. VINCENT.
LAFRESSIVE SERVICE TODAY.

St. Vincent's parish will tomorrow celebrate the feast of the patron saint of the congregation, St. Vincent de Paul, founder of the Order of Vincentians.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Henrique de Silva of Portugal will be celebrant of the pontifical high mass which will be said at 11 o'clock. Rev. M. V. Richardson will act as the assistant priest and Rev. E. J. Lilley will be the master of ceremonies. The deacons will be chosen from among the visiting clergy who may be present. Owing to the illness of Rev. Philip Williams, one of the best known priests of the Vincentian order, who came here for the celebration, Very Rev. Dr. Glass will deliver the sermon.

The musical portions of the mass will be taken care of by an augmented choir under the direction of Prof. T. J. Wilde. A full stringed orchestra will assist in the musical rendition.

An innovation at the vesper services on Sunday evening has been planned by Father Glass, who has arranged to have a full choir, including soloists, to chant the services. Rev. D. J. Hurley will deliver the short sermon of the evening.

SAXAPHONE CONCERT.
CLOSURE OF Y.M.C.A. COURSE.

A saxophone musical was featured yesterday evening in the Y.M.C.A. auditorium as one of the final numbers of the lyceum series which has been running for several months. Mons. E. A. Lefebvre, one of the best-known saxophone players in the country, acted as soloist and was assisted by a quartette of saxophonists, Miss Kathryn Thompson, Miss Montgomery Robinson, Miss Ida Weber and R. O. Robinson. The piano accompaniments were played by Will Garraway. Among the numbers rendered was the "Miserere" from "Il Trovatore," Gounod's "Ave Maria," "Lullaby" from Verdi's "Rigoletto" and Shelly's "Resurrection." Miss Edith Parker gave two readings, "Grandfather" and "The Pioneer," both calling for encore.

MISSOURI NEEDS MONEY.
Gov. Hadley Urges Inheritance Tax on State Legislature and Also Liqueur Tax.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) April 22.—Gov. Hadley sent a special message to the Legislature today, asserting that there is urgent need of an inheritance tax law in Missouri, and also one providing a license tax on wholesale liquor dealers and clubs.

The message said that the present revenue laws will yield an income of $1,000,000 for the next two years, while the needs of the State will total $11,000,000.

The House of Representatives defeated today a measure taxing corporations 25 cents for each $1000 of capitalization. The proposed tax was one of the revenue-producing measures urged by Gov. Hadley.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Birthday.

The Galpin Shakespeare Club will celebrate Shakespeare's birthday today with an all-day meeting at Cumrock Hall. Mrs. George Rice, president, will be the hostess, and representatives from sixteen clubs will take part in the reciprocity exercises, which will begin at 10:30 a.m. Among the morning speakers will be Mrs. J. E. Cowles, representing the National Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. R. J. Waters, the District Federation; Mrs. Helen E. Blandin, Pasadena Shakespeare Club; Mrs. E. C. Bellows, Los Angeles Ebell; Mrs. Abbot Kinney, Pick and Shovel of Venice; Mrs. George V. Wright, the Friday Morning Club; Mrs. H. Wickham, Crescent Bay Club of Ocean Park; Mrs. M. F. Quinn, Shakespeare Club of El Monte; Mrs. Mary Cunningham, Ebell Club of Highland Park; Mrs. F. E. Pryor, Wednesday Morning Club; Mrs. Morton Hitz, the Wednesday Evening Club of Alhambra; Mrs. H. C. Gower, Cosmos of Los Angeles; Mrs. B. C. Davies, Saturday Evening Club of Monrovia.

"What Shakespeare Means to Me" will be the subject of an afternoon symposium, which will be led by Ben Greer, who will answer the question from an actor's standpoint.

The afternoon exercises will begin at 3 p.m. and all students and lovers of Shakespeare are invited to these commemorative exercises.

In Italy, "Italian Villas and Gardens" was the subject of an interesting lecture given before the Friday Morning Club yesterday by E. Cooper Corbett. The lecture was handsomely illustrated with stereoscopic views of the historic gardens around Rome and Genoa.

Political Equality.
"The Suffragette" was the subject of a symposium led by George E. Graham at the meeting of the Political Equality League, at the Woman's Clubhouse yesterday afternoon.

A civic section of the league is to be formed, which will be in charge of Mrs. Cora Lewis as chairman. A committee was appointed to represent the league at the forthcoming Mothers' Day celebration, and Mrs. Cora Lewis, Mrs. Mattie and Mrs. A. L. Robertson were named to have charge of a booth, which will be located at one of the hotels for this celebration.

land wharf, then to a steamship bound for San Pedro, and finally to the California warehouse in this city. A search warrant procured and several cases were found consigned to H. Dugan, one of the names under which Arnold, it is said, was known in the North. It was learned, also, that some cases had been shipped from the warehouse to Kamara Chadura in Chicago.

When the cases in the warehouse were opened, Mrs. Rose recovered between $400 and $500 of her property. "Dugan" was not seen to protest her claim. The remainder of the jewelry and silks has never been located.

Counsel for Arnold say they can prove that Mrs. Rose turned her property over to the Hindoo as her accredited agent, and that their client cannot be connected with the theft. They claim that Arnold never had claim to the goods in the warehouse, and did not know they were there. They explain his absence from the city at various times as due to business trips. They assert that, two weeks ago, he went to Capt. Flammar, on hearing the police were searching for him, and was told he was not wanted. They admit he was in San Francisco in June, but insist he was not an associate of the Hindoo, Chadura.
